

Progressivism Madness:

Exposing and Countering the Idiocracy and Hypocrisy of the Illiberal 'Regressivism' Movement and Their Woke Policies

Today's Progressives in 21st Century America

- Western leftists like to refer to themselves as “progressives.” Oh, the hypocrisy!
- A more appropriate term, the opposite of “progressivism,” is “regressivism”
- Progressivism Isn't progressive—it's recycled and repackaged Marxism supported by:
  - Leftist politicians
  - Democrat activists
  - University academia
  - Fake news and social media
  - Cultural appropriation enforcers
  - Social justice reformers and warriors
  - Diversity, equity and inclusion bureaucrats
  - Predominantly white generations X, Y and Z

Progressivism's Long March Through American's Institutions

- Progressives feel their policy recommendations must necessarily be the right and best solutions.
- U.S. progressives are convinced that because they have good intentions, they can make socialism work.
- Socialism failed the Soviet Union, Cuba, Mao's China, Vietnam, North Korea and Venezuela.
- So-called Scandinavian "democratic socialism" is a progressive myth, false narrative, a hypocrisy.
- Cultural Marxism, transformed to Progressivism, seeks the collapse of Western Civilization, the United States in particular.
- Progressivism's assault has been planned and coordinated to strike America where she is weakest.

Revolutionary Justice and the 'Progressive' Terror

- Today, the enemies of “so-called” progress are denounced as “bigoted,” “racist,” “sexist,” or “homophobic” by Generations X, Y and Z.
- Non-progressive opinion—i.e., any criticism of homosexuality, transgenderism, radical feminism, or Black Lives Matter—is criminalized as “hate speech.”
- According to Progressives, whites (and more often Jews and Asians) are now considered the racial bogeymen responsible for America’s unequal outcomes.

How America's Progressives Are 'Retrogressive'

- The difference between today's Progressivism and classical Liberalism is profound.
- "Classical" Liberalism as a political philosophy emphasizes individual freedom, agency, and choice.
- Today's Progressivism, the latest iteration of Marxism, emphasizes equality and rights.
- The liberal vision supports liberal democracy and capitalism, while the progressive vision supports socialism and government economic planning.
- Progressivism rests on the idea of progress driven by class conflict from capitalism to socialism and then to communism.

Progressive 'Regressives' in North America

- Modern progressives have jettisoned economic class struggle and replaced it with identity classes: gender, race, sexuality, religion, nationality, and ableness.
- The progressives' identity class conflict has not led to "progress" in any discernible form.
- With the "social justice" trinity of "diversity, equity, and inclusion," progressives have returned us to the days of Jim Crow.
- Equity, meaning the statistical equivalence of races and genders, in practice means more of the preferred and fewer of the despised.

Progressivism's Regressivism Examples Threaten America

- Progressives have advocated “justice reform” to alleviate the price that minority dominated criminals justly pay.
- Breakdown in public order, and surging crime, particularly in Democrat-led cities, is due to “defund the police” policies.
- Progressives particularly favor illegal aliens who have, uninvited and against our laws, entered the country.
- Progressives are not fond of fair elections, so they favor “electoral reform,” which means a federal takeover of elections.

Who Are the Progressive Left?

Progressive Left highly engaged with politics

- Their views on race and racial equality also distinguish them from other typology groups.
- Majority express positive views of political leaders who describe themselves as democratic socialists.
- Although they are one of the smallest political typology groups, Progressive Left are the most politically engaged.
- Overwhelmingly Democratic and nearly unanimous in their support for Joe Biden in 2020.

Academia is Indoctrinating Young Minds With Their Resentment-Ridden Ideology

- Academia is indoctrinating young minds throughout the West with their resentment-ridden ideology.
- Their ideologues claim that all truth is subjective; that all sex differences are socially constructed; and that Western imperialism is the sole source of all Third World problems.
- Many academics and college faculty are post-modernists, pushing “progressive” activism at a college near you.
- Their thinking took hold in Western universities in the ‘60s and ‘70s when the true believers of the radical left became the professors of today.

To Understand and Oppose Progressives, Their Ideals Must be Clearly Identified

- Diversity is defined not by opinion, but by race, ethnicity or sexual identity.
- Equity is no longer the laudable goal of equality of opportunity, but the insistence on equality of outcome.
- Inclusion is the use of identity-based quotas to attain this misconceived state of equity.
- Their world is instead a Hobbesian nightmare of identity groups warring for power.
- Rejection of the free market—of the very idea that free, voluntary trading benefits everyone.
- Progressives don't believe in individuals. You're an exemplar of your race, sex, or sexual preference. You're also either a victim or an oppressor.
- All these concepts originated with Karl Marx, but they're back now, in the new guise of identity politics.

National Suicide by Education

- We now teach our children that America is illegitimate, based on genocide and racism, and is systemically evil.
- We teach our children that our society is divided between helpless victims and cruel oppressors.
- What devious force brought all of this cultural destruction into being? Who injected this destructive poison into our educational system? The source, of course, is our universities.
- Progressives adopted the Marxist model of society divided into two warring classes; victims and oppressors, in place of the proletariat versus the bourgeoisie.
- All of these activisms were absorbed in social science and humanities programs.
- Today's students, the future school administrators, and teachers of tomorrow--are being trained for radical forms of grievance activism.

Hate and Fear Are Now Major Motivators on American Campuses

- Almost every university in North America has committed to the indoctrination of identity politics and enforcement of “social justice” policies.
- In practice, this means the adoption of identity ideology to the exclusion and suppression of other views.
- In response to any opinion contrary to their own, these activists do not offer counterarguments and contrary evidence.
- The response on campus to this identity-fueled mob hate and its manifestation in attacks, condemnations, and cancellations is fear.
- Identity politics has divided students, professors, and administrators into warring sexes, races, sexualities, genders, ethnicities, and ablenesses, and mandated hate between them.

Progressives Know How to Fight—But Conservatives Don't

- Progressivism is a destructive ideology, particularly for Generations X , Y, and Z.
- Progressivism is inevitably a conflictual outlook devoid of reason, logic, and truth.
- It's hard for conservatives to recognize that they're in this culture war whether they like it or not.
- Conservative academics, think tanks, and intellectuals should realize that the best materials of the past won't save them.
- Conservatives must look across the table and see their progressive adversaries as the real issue—not their ideas, values, and traditions alone.
